We want to share with you the new opportunity to our students for the coming summer course to earn graduate credit from Antioch University New England. A number of our summer courses are eligible for these credits. If you are interested, please contact either Susan Weber or Bonnie Chamberlin.

Eligibility for graduate credit requires an undergraduate degree. All questions, registration, and fees come directly to Sophia's Hearth Family Center. At the course's completion, your Sophia's Hearth course instructor will submit credit documentation directly to Antioch and you can then request a transcript.

The graduate credit fee is in addition to the tuition paid to us for the course itself. This might be your training course tuition or the weekly course tuition. Each course is eligible for either one or two credits, and the price is the same for one or two.

Antioch graduate credit charge: $300

Sophia's Hearth Family Center charge: $150 (this covers payment to the course instructor for completing evaluation of your work and our administrative fee)

Total charge, payable to SHFC: $450

Eligible courses:

- Nurturing the Young Child, Week I (Training course beginning group first week) 2 credits
- Nurturing the Young Child, Week II (Training course beginning group second week) 2 credits
- Cycles and Rhythms for Working with Young Children (Training course graduating group second week) 2 credits
